WE DIG THE CAROLINAS!

Presidents report — May 2026

I hope everyone is enjoying this crazy Carolina weather with the up and down temperatures but soon enough we will be in the hot temperatures. Let us just hope we get some much-needed rain soon.

I would like to start off by saying what an exciting time at the Spring Conference at Wrightsville beach, NC at the Holiday Inn Resort Lumina. As always there seemed to be a lot of great discussions among attendees around the underground utility business and with our speakers and vendors. A big thank you for all that made this event another success and as always please let us know what we could do to make these events better.

On May 6, 2026, Paul Hunter, Brian Wilkerson, Glenn Foley, Jason Hill, Jacob King, and myself along with Jon Hardister, and Sebastian King had the opportunity to attend the Advocacy Day at the NC General Assembly. We had great meetings with several Senators and Representatives discussing 811, Community Colleges and a couple other issues important to NUCA of Carolina's.

Several of us will be traveling to the Washington Summit in a couple of weeks and we look forward to having some great discussions and meeting with other NUCA chapters.

Our next big event is the NUCA open on Thursday June 11, 2026, at Forest Oaks Country Club, look forward to seeing many of you there.

I would like to thank all of you for your continued support to NUCA of the Carolina's and giving me the opportunity to serve as your President.

Sincerely,

Dennis Holloway
President, NUCA of the Carolinas

Young Leaders Development Program

We are proud to have kicked off the new Leadership Development Program through the National Utility Contractors Association, created to help develop the next generation of leaders across our industry.
Centered around the principles of Extreme Ownership—a leadership philosophy focused on accountability, discipline, and effective decision-making—the six-month program brings together emerging leaders to grow both professionally and personally through discussion, collaboration, and real-world application.

Program Goals

- Develop leaders who take full ownership of outcomes and drive results
- Strengthen communication, accountability, and decision-making skills
- Create practical, real-world applications of leadership principles in the field and office
- Build a network of peers committed to growth and continuous improvement

Our first session launched successfully, with more than 30 Young Leaders participating from two locations: Raleigh and Charlotte, connected via Microsoft Teams. During the kickoff session, participants explored the core concepts of Extreme Ownership and discussed the powerful idea that "there are no bad teams, only bad leaders."

The energy, engagement, and willingness to learn shown by this group set the tone for what promises to be an impactful leadership journey.

With sessions now being offered simultaneously in both Charlotte and Raleigh, we have decided to reopen registration one final time. If you are interested in joining the Leadership Development Program, please contact Doug Price or Grant Walker to register.

Young Leaders Philanthropic Committee

Raleigh Food Bank

Our team joined The Raleigh Food Bank to support local families in need, and the impact was incredible. Together, we helped pack over 9,000 meals and more than 3,750 pounds of food—a powerful reminder of what can happen when people come together with a shared purpose.

Huge thanks to everyone who volunteered their time and energy to make the event such a success.

The Great Raleigh Cleanup

At the Great Raleigh Cleanup, NUCA's Young Leaders showed up and got after it—transforming a tough site in under two hours (before the rain hit) and removing 280 pounds of litter.

Preston Ross III said it best:

"This is our 4th year in a row partnering with NUCA's Young Leaders and I look forward to it each time because impact will happen."

Young Leaders Engagement Committee

We had a fantastic time at the NUCA of the Carolinas Young Leaders Clay Shoot and Safety and Risk Management Meeting on March 27, 2026, at the Palmetto State Armory Outdoor Shooting Complex in Swansea, SC.

This event continues to be one of our favorites—bringing together professionals from across the utility construction industry for a day of networking, friendly competition, and great camaraderie.
A huge thank you to our sponsors who made this event possible:

Young Leaders Outreach Committee

Last week, the NUCA Young Leaders' Outreach Committee continued its commitment to workforce development across North Carolina through several successful industry engagement events.

The committee partnered with Bobbitt Construction for the 3rd Annual Construction Field Day in Asheboro, while also participating in a Career Fair at Willow Springs High School and a Career Day at Clayton High School. Across all three events, committee members had the opportunity to connect with high school students from across the state to showcase what a career path in sitework and utilities can look like.

These conversations continue to play an important role in opening doors for the next generation of industry professionals and in building awareness of the long-term opportunities available in the construction and utility sectors.

Watch our LinkedIn page for announcements of other upcoming events across the Carolinas. If you would like to get involved, please contact Grant Walker at gtw@indacorisk.com.

Safety and Risk Management

Safety & Risk Management A Word from the Chairman

Spring construction season is officially underway, and while we normally associate spring with rain and muddy jobsites, this year many of us are just trying to remember what rain looks like. Between the dust, busy schedules, and projects ramping up, it was still great to take time to reconnect, learn, and focus on what matters most, keeping our people safe.

The NUCA Spring Conference held April 16–18 brought together industry professionals to discuss safety, risk management, and current challenges and successes throughout the utility and pipeline construction industry. Conference topics included AI in safety, utility damage prevention, heat illness prevention, mental health awareness, leadership accountability, hazard recognition, incident prevention, and underground utility damage prevention, including guidance for contractors on filing complaints with the UDPRB.

A major focus this year was Mental Health in Construction and overcoming the stigma surrounding mental health struggles within our industry. The committee highlighted resources available through the Construction Industry Alliance for Suicide Prevention (CIASP).

- For additional resources, visit: https://preventconstructionsuicide.com
- If you or someone you know is struggling, confidential help is available 24/7 by calling or texting 988

On behalf of the NUCA S&RM Committee, we would like to congratulate all NUCA Safety Award recipients and runners-up for their commitment to safety excellence, employee training, and continuous improvement throughout our industry. This year, the committee received nine award applications, and our goal for next year is to increase participation to at least fifteen applicants. We encourage all NUCA members to apply and help showcase the outstanding safety efforts taking place throughout our industry.

- Over 300,000-man hours: Metcon Construction - Award Recipient & Balfour Beaty – Finalist
- Under 300,000-man hours: Moffat Pipe - Award Recipient; Dellinger Construction - Finalist

The next S&RM Committee meeting is anticipated for the week of June 22nd, with the official date still pending. The committee is partnering with the North Carolina and South Carolina Department of Labor Alliances to support Heat Illness Prevention awareness through a three-strategy focus emphasizing Water, Rest, and Shade. Additional updates will be shared soon.

Thank you to all speakers, sponsors, and attendees who contributed to another successful conference and for your continued commitment to protecting our workforce every day.

Trench Safety Stand Down

June 15th - 19th, 2026

WHAT IS TSSD?

The goal of the event is to reach those working in and around trenches and excavations and provide information about current excavation requirements and safety procedures. Trench Safety Stand Down week presents the opportunity for employers to talk directly to employees about the importance of safety at the job site. Stand Downs focus on trench & excavation hazards and reinforce the importance of using trench protective systems and protecting workers from trenching hazards. By holding a Stand Down at your jobsite, you can reduce the number of fatalities and serious injuries that occur each year in our industry.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

June 15-19, 2026 is Trench Safety Stand Down week! Participation is open to all, members and non-members alike. There is no cost for this event. We encourage utility construction, residential, highway construction, plumbers, military, unions, associations, educational institutes, and safety equipment manufacturers to participate. Scroll down for materials to use during your Stand Down week.

NUCA will email a Certificate of Participation to all participating companies. Helmet stickers for individuals will be mailed to the address provided on the TSSD form, click the QR code below to complete the form. Please allow several weeks for our safety team to process your submission.
If you have any questions about the online submission form, please contact

NC 811 News

NC 811.Org

May is upon us. Still shaking my head over that one but it's true: the summer is almost here. Meanwhile we at NC 811 continue our mission to educate and transmit notices to utilities and their locators.
Since we extended the ticket life we have seen a reduction in over all volume (by about 15%) and a significant drop in update notices from 32% down to 18%
This is encouraging however we acknowledge that there are still issues happening with timely locates. I can also report that the Underground Damage Prevention Review Board has stepped up their pace in addressing complaints, meeting every two months. However, they are still playing catch up to some degree.

NC 811 continues to improve functionality with the Norfield products and has trainings open for RTE users to schedule. We are using an AI component to assist with quality assurance audits to prioritize tickets requiring review. Ultimately this will happen on the fly to make corrections as the ticket is being created.

Speaking of AI we continue to work with our vendor to integrate the technology into the phone system and Center Logix. While we were trying to get this live by June it looks like we may need to push this to end of August to make sure everything is working as expected. I will keep you all updated as we continue working through the summer on this.

Remember: we are only a three digit call away! And I am always available to help in any way I can.

Stay safe and stay hydrated!

SC 811 News

The weather is heating up in South Carolina, which means summer is right around the corner and 'Dig Season' is officially here. This is our busiest time of year at South Carolina 811, and while things are just starting to take shape, our teams are preparing for the months ahead. Our call center remains ready to handle incoming ticket volume, and our Public Awareness team is out across the state continuing to share the safe digging message.

While this is usually when things start to ramp up, 2026 has looked a little different so far. We're continuing to track notification trends compared to 2025 and 2024, and we'll have a better picture as we move through the season. With the upcoming law changes, we do expect to see activity start picking up as more people get familiar with the new requirements.

Even with a slower start to the season, our outreach efforts haven't skipped a beat. April marked National Safe Digging Month, and we kicked things off with one of our favorites, Get the Scoop with Greer CPW. It's always a great opportunity to connect with the community and keep the safe digging conversation going as we head into peak season.

We're also excited to welcome a new member to our Public Awareness team. Terrence White has recently joined us as our Public Awareness Liaison and will be a new face out in the field, working directly with communities, contractors, and stakeholders to help spread the safe digging message across South Carolina.

You may even see Terrence at our upcoming Safety Summit on July 22, where we'll continue those conversations and bring industry professionals together to share updates and reinforce the importance of safety across the state. These events continue to be a great way to connect, collaborate, and keep safety top of mind.

Registration is now open, and we'd love to see you there as we come together for another great day of learning, collaboration, and safety-focused conversation.

Stay cool, stay safe, and stay hydrated!

Update on the 2026 Surface Transportation Bill

The House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee has not held a markup on its portion of the surface transportation reauthorization bill, marking the latest delay in its long-anticipated reauthorization.

Committee Chair Rep. Sam Graves (R-MO) indicated the House panel is now aiming to consider the legislation later this month, possibly even the week of May 18. However, the text of the bill has not yet been released and negotiations remain ongoing.

Lawmakers face a Sept. 30 deadline to reauthorize expiring surface programs. With repeated delays and the House schedule many observers now expect Congress will pass this fall a short-term extension of current authorities to avoid disruption. A key sticking point continues to be the legislation's top-line funding level. Graves has expressed interest in a range of $500 billion to $550 billion, while Ranking Member Rick Larsen (D-WA) is pushing for a higher number. Bipartisan discussions between the two leaders are continuing as they work to bridge the gap.

For our industry, these developments underscore the need for sustained advocacy to ensure a robust, long-term reauthorization that delivers certainty for highway, bridge, and transit projects.

NUCA Opposes Gas Tax Holiday Proposal

NUCA and our transportation coalition partners are strongly opposed to proposals under discussion by the Trump Administration and Congress to suspend the federal gas tax. Such plans would have limited, if any, impact on consumer prices, and risk driving up costs on projects designed to improve every community across the country.

"The federal gas tax is the foundation of the Highway Trust Fund (HTF), which supports the nation's transportation improvements," wrote NUCA and TCC in a letter sent to all members of Congress. "Using it as a political tool is a disservice to those who depend on reliable, well-maintained road, bridge and transit systems." NUCA and the TCC encourage Congress to focus on legislation that will address affordability: timely passage of a surface transportation reauthorization bill.

Tariff Refund Portal Website Open

U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CPB) said U.S. businesses that paid tariffs that the Supreme Court recently ruled were illegal could start applying for refunds on April 20. CBP launched the Consolidated

Administration and Processing of Entries (CAPE) portal through their Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) system. Companies applying for the refund must submit what's known as a "CAPE declaration" (Consolidated Administration and Processing of Entries), which CBP says will streamline the "submission and processing of valid refund requests for duties imposed" under the Trump Administration.

The system requires importers and authorized brokers to file claims for duties paid that should see them being refunded within 60-90 days of their application. 330,000 importers paid estimated duties of about $166 billion on approximately 53 million items as of March 4, according to the CBP. But as of April 9 only about 56,500 of these importers owed refunds had completed enrollment for electronic payment

MEMBERFY + NUCA ADVANTAGE

The Construction-Focused Healthcare Strategy

Built for Contractors. Structured for Control.

Healthcare costs continue to rise, but renewal should not be a reaction exercise. Memberfy delivers a contractor-focused strategy that goes beyond trimming increases. We analyze what is driving claims and build a long-term structure to control costs.

- Data-driven renewal strategy — not last-minute negotiations
- Claims transparency and accountability
- Integrated HR, payroll, wellness & financial well-being
- 1-, 3-, and 5-year cost forecasting
- Stronger recruitment and retention positioning for NUCA members

Timing is Everything.

The best time to evaluate your benefits strategy is before renewal pressure hits. Early review creates leverage, flexibility, and stronger decision-making power.
